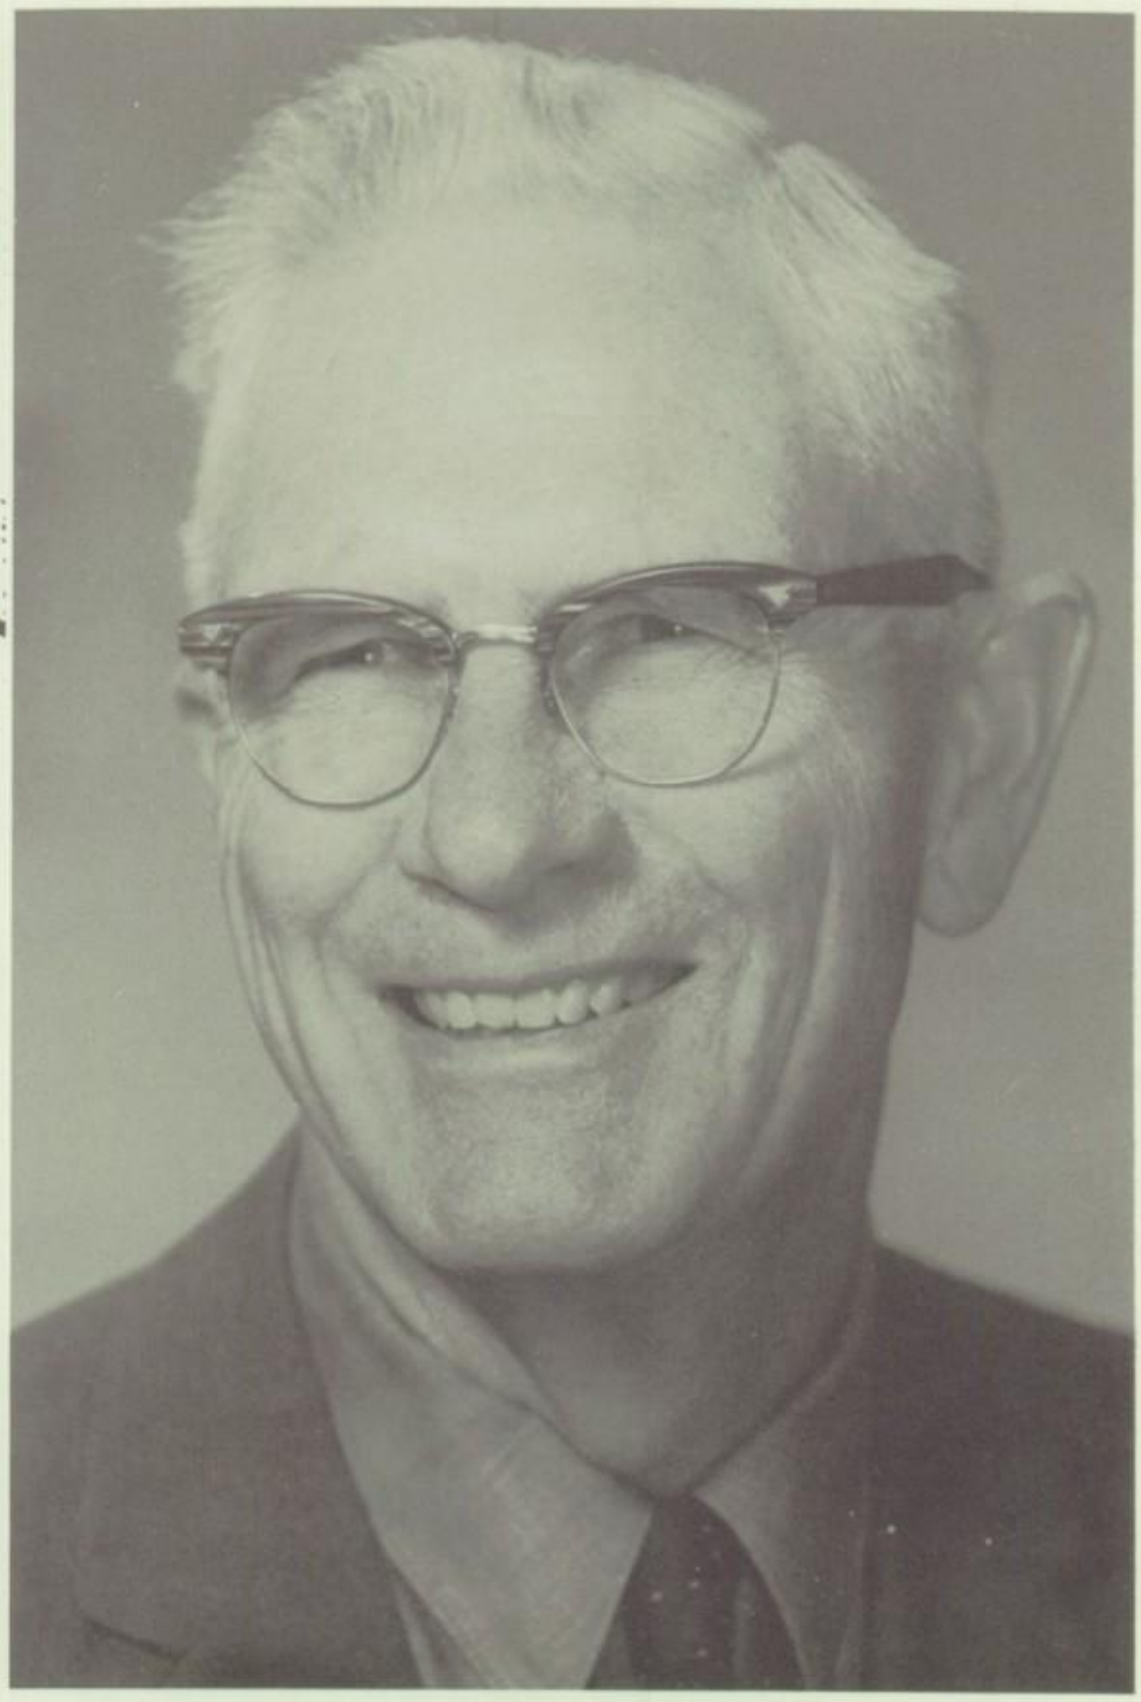
DEDICATION



We, the yearbook staff of 1964, feel our dedication is an important part of our yearbook and because of this have dedicated it to the one person that has helped pave our roads to greater heights.

He attended the University of Iowa majoring in Agriculture and minoring in Manual Arts. In 1947 he applied to teach at Folsom High School, not realizing this was to be his school for seventeen years.

For all the time, patience, understanding, and, above all, the precious knowledge you have given us, we dedicate the 1964 El Oro to you, MR. CECIL A. CARTER.

ALMA MATER

May the lofty Sierras watch over you

As you teach from your chair of gold

And we who have heard your inspiring words

Are the heirs of wealth untold.

We pledge our eternal devotion

Our loyalty shall never die.

Oh mother of truth, wise mentor of youth

All hail to ye, Folsom High.

PRINCIPAL

The high school student of today finds himself buffeted by numerous forces. His parent's expectations strive to direct him toward their youthful experiences or those they wished they had enjoyed. The student must meet the urgent and immediate demands of the present created by his peers. At the same time he must prepare for the constant challenges which are outlined on the horizon ahead, thus affecting his future and his ultimate opportunity and requirements.

It is in a period of rapid change, expanded knowledge and mounting vocational and academic demands, a fractured double standard social structure that the high school student is thrust. It is in this complex array of divergent forces that the present day youth, striving for adulthood, attempts to secure his place in our society.

The student must equate and resolve his place in the total structure of the past, the present, and the future. To do this he must conform and yet be critical, look ahead and at the same time check behind while meeting the future and resolving these conflicts with our help, that are created by time and establishing his role of life as he sees how he must play it.

Dr. James S. Loughridge
Principal

VICE-PRINCIPAL

EL ORO MESSAGE

As we look in retrospect at our school year, we can think of many accomplishments from both group and individual effort.

Those who have zealously pursued their studies have reaped great rewards. We have seen group accomplishments in athletics, student government, and in our various clubs and organizations.

Individually, all of you have grown in wisdom and enthusiasm for facing life's problems. To the seniors leaving our school we would ask that you continue to support our programs and activities, and, to the returning classes, it is your responsibility to "shoulder the load" and to plan to make our school better intellectually and socially.

My congratulations to all of you for making this year one of the finest in Folsom High School history.

Why do we go to school? Some of us do not know; some of us do not care. We are here to acquire knowledge that will be helpful to us as we grow older.

There are a few who try to make the most of their days in school, but a few are not enough. We all need to obtain the knowledge and intelligence necessary to make ourselves, our society and our nation better. We have already begun to build the foundation of our future. Stop now and think--how stable is yours? A strong foundation is one of intelligence, open-mindedness and the capability to increase horizions of knowledge.

Lack of a good foundation could prove to be disastrous because it is so easy for us to find ourselves looking for answers that we do not have. Education can not provide all the answers, but it can answer some of the questions. Learning, however, takes a devoted and sometimes vigorous effort.

We must realize how fortunate we are to have schools, books, and teachers to help us with our education. These make a good start if we decide what we must do ourselves to obtain our education, then do it.

Class History--1964

We, the class of 1964, pausing to look back over our three years at Folsom, have many glorious memories.

Our Sophomore year was spent under the leadership of Lyn Datwyler. Our first Homecoming was filled with crepe paper, wire, and tears when our beloved float, "Can the Cougars" was defeated in the competition. Next came the Sophomore dance, "Bermuda Ball", to climax our year of dreams.

Led by Stan Henderson, our Junior year came and went, but not without leaving a mark on our past. First there was our Homecoming float, "Stomp 'em", and our No. 1 football team. Next came our "Court of Illusion" with Stan Henderson and Rita Sylvernale reigning as king and queen of the prom. Spring came and with it came our Jr.-Sr. Banquet, "Grecian Gardens".

We took the final step into our Senior year with pride and the leadership of Bill Bonham. Cappie Gshwandtner reigned over Homecoming when our float, "Give 'em Treble" took the honors. Then came "Twirp Day", our Karnival, the picnic, the Jr.-Sr. Banquet and our Senior Ball.

June 12, 1964 we received our diplomas, crossing the threshold into adulthood, our high school days are but now wonderful memories.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

We, the class of 1965, have had many memorable experiences in our two years at Folsom High.

In our sophomore year, we were soon caught up in school spirit and participated in many events. We entered a Homecoming float entitled "Can The Cougars" and won second place. We competed for the Spirit Jug at all rallies. One of the social highlights of the year was our dance, "Sagebrush Heaven". The western costumes and authentic decorations made the evening a complete success.

As Juniors we had a very eventful year. Presiding over the activities were Rich Rumsey-President, Marie Duncin-Vice-president, Susan Ellsworth-Secretary, Peter Yorke-Treasurer, Diane Bartells, Susan Albright, and Chuck Hall Representatives.

"Camelot the Cougars" was the name of our Homecoming float. Later, in November, King Richard and Queen Susan reigned over our Junior Prom, "Oriental Evening", which was a big success. Finally, in the spring we sponsored the Junior-Senior Banquet.

OFFICERS AND HISTORIES

J. Haas, C. Duncan, M. Estep, P. Armstrong, M. Yaksic, R. Ghilain Soph. Frosh. S. Schartz, E. Leonard, T. Fucich, C. Koons, K. Smith.

SOPHOMORE:

Last year, the new Cordova High was being built, while we were at Mills. The Freshman sat as a group for the last time on June 6, 1963 at Graduation. This year the students in the area around Rancho Cordova went to Cordova High, while those from Mather, and Folsom attended Folsom High.

Our sophomore year has been very interesting and educational, and we are all eagerly looking forward to our Junior year.

FRESHMAN:

Once again the corridors of Folsom High rang out with the voices of a freshman class.
The Freshman worked hard on their homecoming float and were proud when they won third place. The people of Folsom have been very kind to the Freshman class and we extend our deepest thanks to them.
The class of "67" has had a very enjoyable year and is looking forward to another.

HISTORY EL ORO

The year Folsom High first started, a yearbook was produced-it was called the "El Oro" and set a tradition we still follow today.

For many years the Editor was elected, but, the administration found a few of the editors incapable and decided to make it an appointive office.

A few years later a new and more efficient method of selection was found. The editor would choose a Junior to be Assistant Editor her junior year and learn about the yearbook. The following year this girl or boy would be Editor. Before a person may be chosen Assistant Editor the Editor, Sponsor, and Administration must agree she is capable. The question then goes to the Student Council.

Although the size and ideas of our school have been changing, the yearbook stays much the same, year after year. Each book tries to cover the entire social and academic year, while also trying to convey the friendly, small school atmosphere at Folsom High.

The week before Homecoming, everyone spent their free time working on the Homecoming floats. Three days before the great event it started to rain: all of us had the same wish - don't let it rain on November 8.

On the morning of Homecoming, thirty-five of our students traveled to El Dorado and staged an excellent exchange rally. Later that afternoon El Dorado produced an exchange rally for us: afterwards the participants met and had a party. At four o'clock the annual parade started at Rancho arriving at Folsom High during the J. V. game.

At the half-time of the Varsity game, Cappy Gshwandtner was crowned Homecoming Queen 1963, and the seniors took first place honors in the float competition.

The after-game dance was presented by the senior class. It was a perfect ending for a perfect day.

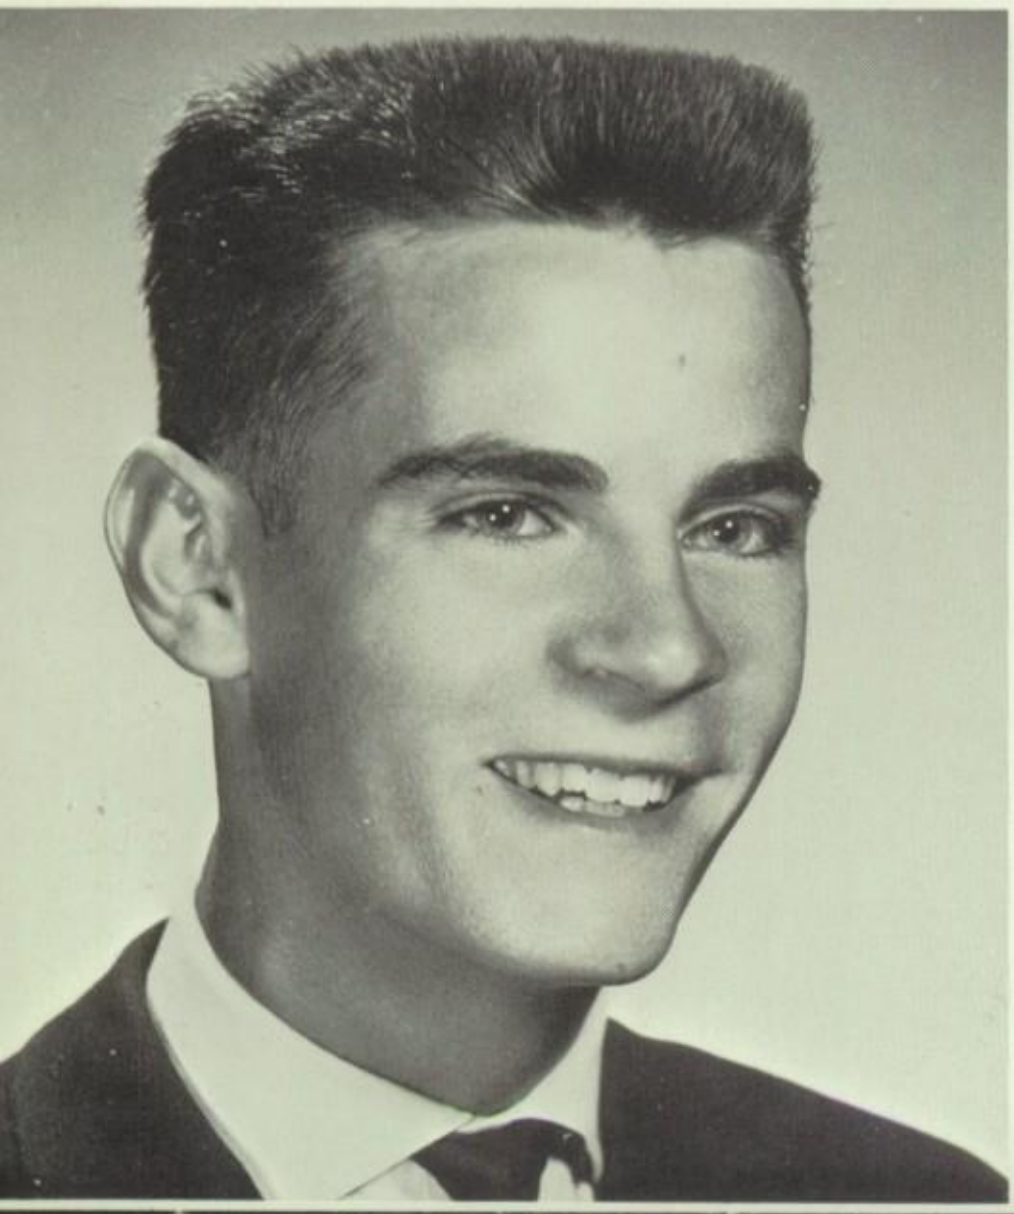
FOREIGN EXCHANGE STUDENT



"WELCOME HADSCHI"

Hartmut Wenzel, our seventeen year old, exchange student, arrived in the United States from Germany in August of this school year.

During his stay Hadschi was kept busy giving lectures, fixing displays of his home country, and seeing California.

We have certainly enjoyed having Hadschi visit us and we hope he will always remember his stay here.

Mr. and Mrs. Bonham, Hadschi, Mike, and Bill.

Hadschi's arrival in San Francisco.

January 29, 1964

Hello there,

I could come over from Germany here to Folsom only because you, my fellow students, made this possible. I came here to Folsom High School and at the beginning of the school year many things were strange and new to me. But, since the people here, students and teachers alike, are nice and helpful, in a few days nothing looked strange anymore. Soon I found out where all the different rooms were and could find my way through all the detours of the many constructions. I can tell you, it is quite an experience to be in a foreign country with its different customs and with another language, which you as an exchange student have to speak all the time. The language was no real problem because everybody tried to speak so that I could understand and I soon improved, but sometimes I made jokes without intention.

I remember one time, I wanted safety pin but I could not think of the English word. Therefore, I tried wordly translantion and I asked: "Do you have a security needle?" Everybody was laughing and I did not know why.

One thing was real new to me and that was a pep assembly. If you see something like that for the first time you think it is rather funny. But after several assemblies I started to like all this: the fight for the spirit jug, the cheering crowd, and the cheer and song leaders. All this is a lot of fun!

Something I really enjoyed was running with the cross country team. Sometimes it was real hard to stick with it because of the tiring work-outs. I was glad and happy to receive the varsity letter at the end of the season.

There was not only fun and sport. The scholastic part was the real important one to me and I am glad that I could keep up with you.

Altogether I can say I really enjoyed being here and this year at Folsom High was a year full of new experiences and a year of building a little bit of understanding between two different nations. And that is what the American Field Service really wants, to build understanding.

I thank you all very much for making this great experience possible and for the friendship and helpfulness you have shown to me. You all were very nice.

1963 was the third year Folsom participated in Cross Country. The team under the leadership of Coach Pumphrey took second place at the sub-sectional meet.

After losing their first two meets by narrow margins, the Class B team got inspirational and went on to tie El Dorado for Class B honors at the league meet.

The team picked Joe Ticer - Most Improved, Tom Moore - Most Inspirational, and George Weed - Most Outstanding.

Individually, George Weed took first place at the Downey-Modesto Invitational Meet, and the Sub-Sectional Meet. He took a third at the Sacramento State Invitational Meet and was second in the Sectional Meet. George was also nominated to the Helm Hall of Fame (an award given to the area's best runner each year) for the second consecutive time.

DANCE

Mr. Irrestible - Hartmut Wenzel

"SAN FRANCISCO TONITE"

"San Francisco Tonite," the G.A.A.'s annual semi-formal, girl-ask-boy dance took place on March 6 from 9-12 P.M. in the Boys' Gym. Music was provided by Eddie Halter, and the decorations carried out the theme of San Francisco. Everyone agreed all the girls, especially Pat Bonacci, general chairman, deserved congratulations for making it a tremendous success!

"Dream"

LETTER FROM EDITOR

As this school year ends each of us will carry different memories of our years at Folsom. Some will remember a certain class, song, tradition, or moment. I am sure none of us will ever forget the tragic news we received at noon on November 22, 1963 - "President Kennedy Assassinated!" The school and nation were in a state of shock and mourning. It was at this time our football team made us truly realize why we are proud of our school. The team gave up its football banquet to send the money to the family of J. D. Tippitt, police officer killed in the line of duty during the President's assassination.

Each of us has grown and changed during this year. Some will return next year, others will not. To all of you I wish to express my hope that this yearbook covers the complete school year.

Many people are responsible for this book, and each deserves credit. To the staff, thank you for everything! To Tim, you did a wonderful job and deserve all the credit for the sports section. To Mr. Dick Daniels, thank you for your help and confidence. To Mr. Noel Gourselle and the staff at Coronet Studios, all I can say is "Thank you." Working with a studio like yours makes yearbook a pleasure. Without your wonderful pictures and prompt service, this yearbook would still be in the printing stage. And to Woody Turner, thank you for the use of Buddio in the division pages.

My only wish is that as you leaf through these pages and revive your high school days you will recall and cherish each memory, and above all, your friends at Folsom High.

This years a ball but hell now you're out and it's fun stay drunk and good God Bless
Mark Yakesic

Hi!
Well... there alot to say, but I can't 'cept I already as you realize that since I realize that we've been going that there's fuck sadness, love and live enjoyed all of it and hope it will never the same as I do, it won't been through alot together and that is the main reason full as I do. also, you've been very standing- where you've been very think we could have my little "fits." I do hope but if we DON'T, I wish you all the
the world. you really want anything you deserve. If your can be a success. let me know. there Zeke, - let me
on me being
me. fun the
- all cause we've had
- Do what you want to be and happy.
I hope I'm the one who can make you happy.
I'll WAIT

plus all the little arguments
I'm so damn spoiled - Do to hell and stay cool
as you are now
Lots of Luck
Rogue

All my Love, Jannah

Sorry I didn't Fill
The page. Someone helped me!!
Love YA!

Zeke

Remember me when ever you need a hot girl. Best of luck.

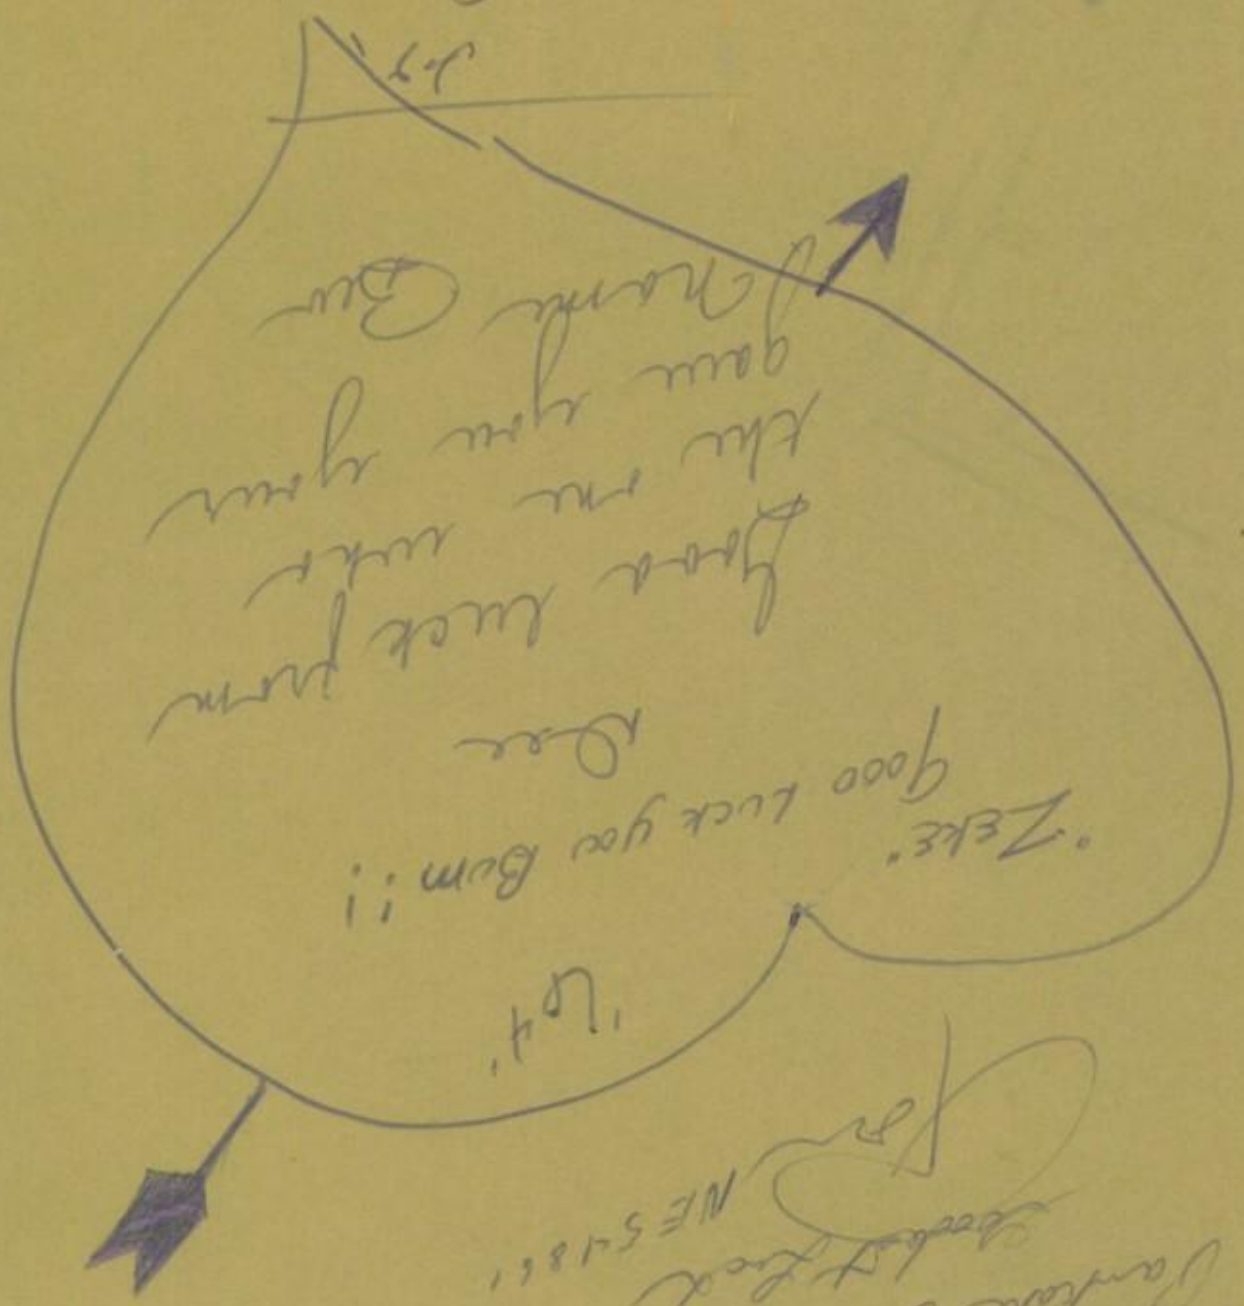
The Duke



Zeke,

To a real cool head. Remember all the fun(?) we had at Folsom. Lots of luck in the future and all that rot.

P.S. Excuse my picture! Windy day -

Zeke
It's been nice knowing you, you drunken Summit Bastard.
Bill NE5-5168

Zeke
To one of the swellest guys I've known, I'll never never forget that one drunken night, the vodka + getting bounced from that biddies party.
Best of luck
Tom Pavelchik

Zeke,
Lots of luck and happiness always.
